Introduction

The Human Services Quality Framework (HSQF) is a system for assessing and improving the quality of human services.

The HSQF incorporates:

- A set of quality standards, known as the Human Services Quality Standards (the Standards), which cover the core elements of human service delivery.
- An assessment process to measure the performance of service providers against the standards (either independent third-party certification, self-assessment or recognition of accreditation under another approved quality system).
- A continuous improvement framework, which supports the participation of people who use services in quality improvement.

The HSQF was developed by the Queensland Government in collaboration with the non-government sector to increase consistency in service quality, ensure public confidence in service delivery and maintain important safeguards for people who use services. It is designed to reduce duplication and red tape for human service organisations seeking to demonstrate continuous quality improvement thus allowing those organisations to focus their resources on service provision.

Participation in the HSQF offers benefits for all parties:

People using services, families and carers	Human service organisations	Government
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Access to better, more reliable services • Greater focus on individual rights • Confidence in the organisation's systems and processes • Opportunity to contribute to service improvement 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A clear and consistent framework for planning, operating and improving services • Reduction in administrative burden and compliance costs • A holistic assessment of the organisation's systems and processes • The opportunity to position the organisation to deliver services in other areas of human services 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A streamlined, consistent process to monitor the quality of services funded by government • Increased confidence in government investment in services • Improved public accountability

This booklet

This booklet describes how the HSQF applies to in-scope organisations and services.

Part 1 contains information about the:

- organisations in-scope of the HSQF and options for out-of-scope organisations and service types
- quality pathways to assess performance against the standards and how these apply to in-scope organisations
- resources available to support organisations.

Part 2 outlines the standards.

Part 3 provides detailed information about the quality pathways for all services in-scope of the HSQF.

Part 4 provides information about the funding thresholds that apply to some organisations.

In this booklet, the following terms are used:

Audit	Assessment by a third-party auditor/certification body (CB) of an organisation's performance against the standards.
Demonstrate performance against the standards	Showing the extent to which the human service organisation is complying with the requirements contained within the Human Services Quality Standards. Also referred to as demonstrating compliance with the standards.
HSQF Operations team	The Queensland Government team, located in the Department of Child Safety, Seniors and Disability Services (DCSSDS), that is responsible for administering the HSQF.
Organisation	The legal entities, including non-government organisations, that deliver human services funded by a Queensland Government department. Organisation may also be used interchangeably with 'human service organisation', 'non-government organisation (NGO)', 'funded organisation', 'provider' or 'supplier'.
Participating Queensland Government department	Queensland Government departments that are approved to utilise the HSQF for all or some of the non-government human services they fund.
Quality pathway	Quality pathway, or demonstration method, is the method that a human service organisation uses to demonstrate that it is complying with the requirements contained within the standards. Quality pathway may be used interchangeably with 'demonstration method'.
Service stream	A broad category of service delivery in-scope of the HSQF such as, but not limited to, Community Services, Seniors Services, Child and Family Services and Disability Services.
Service/service type	A care, support activity, class of supports or service provided by a human service organisation. Service types are listed by service stream in Part 3 of this document.

Part 1 – Scope and application of HSQF

Organisations in-scope of the HSQF

The HSQF applies to a range of human service organisations as described below.

1 Organisations funded by participating Queensland Government departments (excluding Queensland Health)

The HSQF is required to be implemented by:

- Organisations funded to deliver human services under service agreements, or other specified arrangements¹, with the following three participating Queensland Government departments:
 - Department of Child Safety, Seniors and Disability Services (DCSSDS)
 - Department of Treaty, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Partnerships, Communities and the Arts (DTATSIPCA)
 - Department of Justice and Attorney-General (DJAG)
- Organisations funded by DCSSDS to deliver child protection placement services in-scope of licensing under an Individualised Placement and Support (IPS) Agreement².
- Once notified by DCSSDS, funded organisations delivering Family Based Care service types which are deemed in-scope, and those not in-scope of licensing.
- Disability services delivered through the Continuity of Service (CoS) funding administered by DCSSDS Disability Accommodation, Respite and Forensic Services.

All organisations funded by these departments are required to deliver human services in compliance with the standards. Some organisations are required to demonstrate their compliance with the standards through the applicable quality pathway specified in Part 3.

The contractual requirement to comply with the HSQF is specified in:

For services delivered under a Service Agreement:

- Clause 3.3 of the Service Agreement – Standard Terms and clauses 4.1 to 4.8 of the Service Agreement – Funding and Service Details, and/or
- Clause 4.1 of the (Short Form) Terms and Conditions and clause 7 of Particulars (Service Provision), and/or
- Notification or variation to agreement.

For services delivered under an Individualised Placement and Support Agreement:

- Clause 5 of the Terms and Conditions of the Individualised Placement and Support Agreement.

For licensed care services, it is a condition of the care service licence to comply with and maintain HSQF Certification.

2 Organisations funded by Queensland Health

The HSQF is available to some organisations funded by Queensland Health to deliver services listed in Part 3.

Organisations that have been advised by Queensland Health they can use HSQF certification to meet quality requirements for the Queensland Health services listed in Part 3 may include those services in their HSQF audit/certification processes.

² Further information is available in the resource "In-Scope of Licensing Process for IPS Suppliers", available on the Child Safety Licensing Resources page

3 Other organisations and out-of-scope services

Organisations can apply to use the HSQF certification process for services not listed in Part 3 of this booklet (out-of-scope services) delivered in Queensland, however this is subject to prior approval from HSQF Operations.

Organisations that deliver services out-of-scope of HSQF, even if they hold existing HSQF certification for in-scope services, must have prior approval from the relevant funding department and HSQF Operations before bringing out-of-scope services into their HSQF certification.

To apply the organisation seeks approval from their funding department to include the services in HSQF certification and provides evidence of this approval to their certification body.

The certification body forwards the request to the HSQF Operations detailing the:

- name of the organisation
- current certification status of organisation
- date and type of next audit (or estimated date if not yet booked)
- service type name/s and funding department of the out-of-scope services
- funding department's approval that the services can be included in HSQF certification
- name and contact details for an officer in the funding department.

HSQF Operations will review requests and advise an outcome within 10 business days. Audit planning should not be finalised until approval is provided.

Note: No approval is required to implement the standards or to self-assess against the standards.

Quality pathways – overview and general information

There are three pathways for demonstrating performance, or compliance, with the standards:

1. Certification.
2. Self-assessment.
3. Evidence of accreditation under another approved quality system.

The quality pathway that applies to an organisation is based on the:

- type and complexity of services provided
- vulnerability of people using services
- level of Queensland Government investment in service delivery
- specific departmental requirements.

The HSQF recognises that many organisations deliver a range of different services from various locations across the state. As a general rule to simplify processes, organisations only need to demonstrate compliance through one method³, regardless of the number of services and/or service sites or outlets they operate.

The tables below provides an overview of each quality pathway.

³ In a small number of cases, organisations using accreditation under another approved quality system that only partially meets HSQF requirements may be required to complete an additional 'gap' self-assessment against the HSQF.

Certification

Applies to	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Generally applies to direct service delivery to vulnerable people.
Description	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Organisations in-scope of certification are required to achieve and maintain certification against the Human Services Quality Standards (the standards). • Certification is granted when an organisation has been assessed by an independent third-party (known as a certification body or 'CB') as meeting the standards. • Certification bodies are accredited by the Joint Accreditation System of Australia and New Zealand (JAS-ANZ) which is the government-appointed body for accrediting and monitoring certification bodies and designing certification systems. • Organisations are required to contract a JAS-ANZ accredited certification body to assess their suitability for certification.
Expected outcome	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Standards are being met and organisational performance is being enhanced through continuous improvement.
Timeframes	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Organisations new to HSQF are required to achieve certification within 18 months of either: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – The Schedule Start Date of the Service Agreement with a participating Queensland Government department to deliver services. – Being notified of the requirement to achieve HSQF certification. – Being notified that they are deemed to be in-scope of care service licensing by DCSSDS. – Being approved to use HSQF as a quality system of choice. • Organisations that already hold certification are required to include new/additional services into their next HSQF audit. • The timeframes for certification are specified in the Service Agreement - Funding and Service Details or in the relevant notification issued. • The department may agree a different timeframe for achieving certification if appropriate or reasonable.
Further information	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Part 3 provides detailed information about the services in-scope for certification. • Part 4 provides information about how funding thresholds apply. • Further information, tools and resources to support certification are available on the HSQF website at www.dcssds.qld.gov.au/our-work/human-services-quality-framework/certification-quality-requirements-resources

Applies to	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Generally applies to non-direct service delivery and/or to universal, low-intensity or lower-risk service delivery.• For organisations funded by a participating Queensland Government department (excluding Queensland Health), self-assessment may also apply where the level of departmental investment falls within a set threshold, as outlined in Part 4.
Description	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Organisations in-scope of self-assessment complete a HSQF self-assessment to rate their performance against the Human Services Quality Standards (the standards).• Further guidance on the process is detailed in the Self-assessment and Continuous Guide – Self-Assessable Organisations published on the HSQF website.
Expected outcome	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Standards are being met and identified improvements are being implemented.• Simpler assessment process for lower-risk service delivery.
Timeframes	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• The self-assessment timeframes outlined below are current and applicable at the publication date of this document, however these may change in any future online self-assessment system implemented.• New self-assessable organisations complete a self-assessment against the standards and submit this to their contract officer within 18 months of signing a Service Agreement – Funding and Service Details or Particulars (Service Provision).• A continuous improvement plan, showing organisational progress made implementing improvements identified in the self-assessment, is due within 30 months of signing the service agreement (i.e. 12 months after the self-assessment).• Another self-assessment is completed 18 months later.• For organisations moving from HSQF certification to self-assessment, the first self-assessment will be due on the date when the next HSQF audit would have occurred.• Disability services funded organisations approved to use restrictive practices with Continuity of Support (CoS) service users are required, at a minimum, to complete and submit a HSQF self-assessment against HSQF quality indicators relating to restrictive practices within three months of the restrictive practice approval. Further details are provided in Part 3 - Disability Services – Notes and Exceptions.
Further information	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Part 3 provides detailed information about the services in-scope for self-assessment.• Part 4 provides information about how funding thresholds apply.• Further information, tools and resources to support self-assessment are available on the HSQF website at www.dcssds.qld.gov.au/our-work/human-services-quality-framework/self-assessable-quality-requirements-resources.

Evidence of accreditation under another approved quality system

Applies to	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Applies on a case-by-case basis where an organisation is accredited or certified against another approved quality system for other services.
Description	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• This method enables an organisation to submit evidence of accreditation or certification under another quality system to demonstrate their performance against the Human Services Quality Standards (the standards).• Applications for recognition of other accreditation are assessed by the HSQF Operations team on a case-by-case basis. Factors considered include whether an organisation's existing certification or accreditation aligns well with HSQF and is appropriate for the types of services being delivered.• Where an organisation's other accreditation is only partially recognised, the organisation may be required to complete a periodic gap self-assessment against the standards.• It is important to note that, in addition to HSQF, some services are required to implement practice standards such as the Queensland Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Child Protection Peak Practice Standards. These practice standards are an additional requirement and do not exempt organisations from the requirement to demonstrate compliance with HSQF.
Expected outcome	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Standards are being met and organisational performance is being enhanced through continuous improvement.• Reduced duplication for organisations accredited or certified under another quality system.
Timeframes	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Organisations must keep up-to-date copies of their other accreditation documents (report and certificate) current with their contract officer.• Where organisations are required to complete a gap self-assessment, this will be determined on a case-by-case basis but will usually be due 18 months after approval to use this demonstration method.
Further information	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Part 3 provides detailed information about the services for which other accreditation is accepted.• Part 4 outlines how funding thresholds apply to organisations approved to use other accreditation.• Further information about approved other accreditation and the process of applying for recognition of other accreditation are available on the HSQF website at www.dcssds.qld.gov.au/our-work/human-services-quality-framework/other-accreditation-process-resources.

Quality pathways – application to in-scope organisations

The quality pathway for all services in-scope of the HSQF is specified in Part 3 and is subject to the relevant notes and exceptions in the applicable table and the funding thresholds outlined in Part 4.

How to identify your organisation's quality pathway

- Step 1 In Part 3, look-up the quality pathway for all the in-scope services you deliver.
- Step 2 In Part 3, check the Notes and Exceptions listed in the tables for your in-scope services.
- Step 3 In Part 4, check if funding thresholds change your quality pathway.
- Step 4 Confirm your quality pathway with your contract officer or the HSQF Operations team.

Changes in funding levels or the types of services funded may change an organisation's quality pathway. When changes occur, organisations should discuss HSQF implications with their contract officer. In-scope organisations will be advised about changes to quality pathways and related HSQF requirements by their Queensland Government funding department.

Despite the exceptions described in Part 3 and funding thresholds outlined in Part 4, the HSQF Operations team, in consultation with an organisation's funding department, may determine that it is not appropriate for an organisation or service to demonstrate compliance with the HSQF or that a different demonstration method will apply than indicated in Part 3 or Part 4. This will be determined, and organisations will be advised, on a case-by-case basis.

Where it has been agreed that a service is in-scope of HSQF, but it is not listed in Part 3, the applicable demonstration method will be determined, and organisations will be advised, on a case-by-case basis.

Subcontracting and application of HSQF to subcontracted services

For organisations funded under a service agreement with a participating Queensland Government department, the Service Agreement – Standard Terms, clause 22 states that organisations may only subcontract services where there is prior written consent from the department/s. Organisations that subcontract services must have a contract with the subcontractor.

Responsibility for ensuring that services are delivered in compliance with the standards rests with the funded organisation, even in relation to the services delivered by a subcontractor. Funded organisations that are required to implement the HSQF remain liable under their service agreement for all conditions, including HSQF provisions, even if services are subcontracted. Therefore, funded organisations should ensure that any subcontracting arrangements require the subcontractor to meet the HSQF and other contractual responsibilities applicable to the service being subcontracted.

Where the organisation is required to achieve certification of the services, the subcontract must include a term that the subcontractor agrees to allow an independent certification body to access its premises to conduct an assessment of subcontracted services against the standards.

Examples of HSQF related issues to be included in subcontracts include specifying that HSQF auditors can access the physical environment of subcontracted service delivery sites, interview staff delivering services, obtain feedback from people using subcontracted services and review their files (subject to consent).

Subcontracted services that are in-scope of certification must be assessed against the HSQF in one of the following ways:

1. Included in the funded organisation's HSQF audit as a subcontracted service delivery site.
2. The subcontractor may complete a separate HSQF audit for the subcontracted services.
3. Where the subcontractor is already in-scope of HSQF certification for other services, the subcontracted services may be included in the subcontractor's own HSQF audit.

If the service being subcontracted is only self-assessable under the HSQF, the subcontractor's role and input into the self-assessment needs to be considered and planned.

Organisations providing services through consortiums, local alliances or other collaborative arrangements need to consider how HSQF requirements will be met.

Notes and Exceptions – Child and Family Services

- B. Multi-service providers: Where organisations deliver multiple in-scope services listed in Part 3:
- Certification takes precedence, so if one or more services delivered requires certification, this is the method that must be used by the organisation.
 - As organisations generally only demonstrate compliance using one pathway, those delivering services that are required to be certified do not need to complete a separate self-assessment for services listed as self-assessable in Part 3, and self-assessable services do not need to be included in third-party audits.
 - Organisations that deliver more than one self-assessable service, only need to complete a combined self-assessment that includes all of their self-assessable services.
- C. Queensland Government agencies: As a general rule, Queensland Government agencies delivering human services funded by participating Queensland Government departments through service agreements are not required to demonstrate compliance with the HSQF. These providers will remain subject to regulation by their own specific sets of quality standards and safeguards.
- D. Where Other (Toth) services are funded under the same service outlet number as another service that demonstrates compliance with HSQF (through either certification, self-assessment or other accreditation), the HSQF quality pathway will also apply to the Toth service. Otherwise, Toth funded services will only need to demonstrate compliance with HSQF when advised, on a case-by-case basis.
1. T204 with Direct Care and T204 without Direct Care are not separated in the Child Protection (Placement Services) Investment Specification, however must be separately addressed in audits.
 2. T205 with Direct Care and T205 without Direct Care are not separated in the Child Protection (Placement Services) Investment Specification, however must be separately addressed in audits.
 3. ISO 9001 accreditation applies, or where agreed accreditation under another quality system, except for certain representative networks where notified by the department, which are required to achieve certification.
 4. Demonstration of meeting HSQF requirements under the Family Based Care Investment Specification will only apply upon notification by DCSSDS to funded organisations.

Notes and Exceptions – Community Services

- A. A new overarching single Community Services Investment Specification V1.0 was introduced in July 2023. All currently funded services will be transitioned to this new investment specification over time as service agreements expire and new contracts are executed. The Community Services Investment Specification will replace the Individuals, Community and Service System Development and Support Investment Specifications and will also provide the framework for funding QCSS services. During the transition to the new Community Services Investment Specification, organisations' existing service agreements will contain service types and Tcodes from the older Individuals, Community and Service System Development and Support Investment Specifications and QCSS funding arrangement.
- B. This indicates the HSQF Quality Pathway, subject to the funding thresholds outlined in Part 4 and/or other applicable exceptions detailed below.  2. T103 occurs in both the Community Investment Specification and the new Community Services Investment Specification. They are listed under slightly different names but have the same quality pathway.

Part 4 – Funding Thresholds

Part 4 outlines how the type and/or duration of funding and funding levels impact on quality pathways for service delivery funded by the following three participating Queensland Government departments:

- Department of Child Safety, Seniors and Disability Services (DCSSDS)
- Department of Treaty, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Partnerships, Communities and the Arts (DTATSIPCA)
- Department of Justice and Attorney-General (DJAG)

Part 4 does not apply to Queensland Health services and Queensland Health funding is not included in the calculation of funding thresholds outlined below.

Funding duration/type

Organisations are required to demonstrate performance against the standards for in-scope services that are funded for a period of 18 months or more. Where organisations that are already under HSQF receive other funding for in-scope service types that is less than 18 months in duration, these other services are required to be included in HSQF assessment processes, unless advised otherwise. This does not apply where the service is a pilot or trial and will be evaluated in another way.

Organisations that only receive one-off or short-term funding are not required to demonstrate compliance with the HSQF, although the funded services must still be delivered in accordance with the Human Services Quality Standards. For HSQF purposes, short-term funding is defined as service delivery funded for a period of less than 18 months.

Services funded as pilot programs or trials are not required to demonstrate compliance with HSQF as they are being evaluated in another way. The pilot or trial period may exceed 18 months.

Funding thresholds

Funding thresholds operate as follows:

- For organisations delivering services with a quality pathway of certification specified in Part 3, the combined total annual defined term/ongoing funding for those services across the three Queensland Government departments listed above, determines the final quality pathway for the services.
- The funding thresholds for 2024-25 are outlined below.

Total combined funding	Applicable quality pathway
More than $306,000 per annum	Certification
$116,000 up to $306,000 per annum	Self-assessment
Less than $116,000 per annum	Not required to demonstrate compliance

- The thresholds apply to funding for services that would normally be in-scope for certification. Organisations with funding that meets the threshold for self-assessment, that receive additional funding for service types that are specified in Part 3 as self-assessable, will only be required to undertake self-assessment.

Example: An organisation that receives funding of $200,000 for Targeted Family Support Services (in-scope for certification but meets funding threshold for self-assessment) as well as funding of $220,000 for Neighbourhood Centre services (self-assessable), will only be required to undertake a self-assessment.

- The funding thresholds above also apply to organisations demonstrating compliance with HSQF through their accreditation under another set of quality standards (with or without a gap self-assessment) as follows:
 - Organisations that receive more than $306,000 per annum in funding for service types for which other accreditation is accepted, are required to provide and keep evidence of their other accreditation (report and certificate) current with their funding department/s.
 - Organisations that receive $116,000 up to $306,000 per annum in funding for service types for which other accreditation is accepted, may only be required to complete a HSQF self-assessment where they do not already hold the other accreditation.
 - Organisations that receive less than $116,000 per annum in funding for service types for which other accreditation is accepted, are not required to evidence their other accreditation to their funding department/s.
- Funding thresholds are reviewed annually considering factors such as indexation and are published on the HSQF website. The 2024-25 funding thresholds are based on state indexation effective at 1 July 2024.
- Changes in the funding levels or the types of services funded may change an organisation's quality pathway. When changes occur, organisations should discuss HSQF implications with their contract officer.

Funding threshold exceptions

1. Services that are required to be certified regardless of funding level and the funding thresholds outlined above include:
 - Child protection placement services in-scope of licensing
 - Disability services using restrictive practices as relevant⁵
 - Domestic and family violence perpetrator intervention programs, and
 - Women's shelters (Temporary Supported Accommodation – Immediate).
2. The funding thresholds may not apply when the services are assessed as higher or lower risk or are subject to specific regulatory requirements. This will be assessed on a case-by-case basis by the HSQF Operations team in consultation with an organisation's funding department.
3. When an organisation's Queensland Health funded services are required to achieve HSQF certification, the organisation may be required to include its services funded by the other participating Queensland Government department/s into its HSQF certification, regardless of the funding level.
